Value Stocks Bounce Back as Growth Cos Lose Lure

Rajesh Mascarenhas
@timesgroup.com

Mumbai: Investors with a fancy for beaten-down stocks are back in the game. Value stocks have bounced sharply in 2021 so far, ending a decade-long losing run that had a section of the market assert that this style of investing is dead.

The MSCI India Value Index has gained 18% since January as against the 9% advance in the MSCI India Growth Index — the outperformer in the past decade. Growth investing focusses on companies that are steady performers, while value investors look for stocks that are trading below their actual value that are often beaten down. Growth stocks tend to be more expensively valued than value names.

Between 2010 and 2020, the MSCI India Value Index underperformed the Growth Index by 50%.

Cheque Bounces Hint at Asset Stress at NBFCs

Cheque bounce rates surge by over 250 bps in May over April

Saloni Shukla@timesgroup.com

Mumbai: High cheque bounce rates in May are indicating asset quality problems for non-bank financing companies (NBFCs). Cheque bounce rates tracked by the National Payments Corporation of India's (NPCI) e-NACH (National Automated Clearing House) platform rose by more than 250 basis points in value in May over April.

A halt in physical collections by non-bank lenders, strict lockdowns and restrictions have caused a severe dip in NBFCs' loan collection efficiencies, which fell 10-15% between April and May.

"The April and May months have been a washout when it comes to business, most stressful borrowers have skipped either one or two EMI payments and could slip in the NPA category in June," said the CEO of a large non-bank lender. "Our collection teams and sales agents are putting efforts to cure the high bounce rates."

Data from NACH, a clearing service for interbank transactions run by the NPCI, show that bounce rates for May 2021 was at 30.7% in value and 35.8% in volume. In April, the bounce rates in value was at 28% while volume was at 34.1% in comparison to last year.

The bounce rates are almost in line with last year levels when the country was in a total lockdown. In May 2020, the NACH platform had recorded bounce rates of 30.3% in value and 36.4% in volume.

Another CEO said that fintech lenders were the worst hit after low-ticket customers chose to default on unsecured credit. "A bulk of the bounces shown through the NACH data is due to high payment failure rates of fintech borrowers; many of such lenders have poor underwriting skills and just rely on high-handed tactics to recover monies," the official said.

PROSPECTS OF A SHARP RECOVERY IN INDUSTRY & COMMERCE LIFT STOCKS BY UP TO 50% Revival Hopes Electrify Power Stocks

Mumbai: Expectations of a revival in business activity led by the gradual lifting of lockdown by various states has fuelled a rally in power stocks of late. Stocks such as Adani Power, Tata Power, Reliance Power, Jalprakash Power and RattanIndia Power rallied between 20% and 50% in the last five trading sessions. The BSE Power Index hit its highest level since November 18, 2010, ending a decade-long bearish trend.

"Improved prospect of a sharp recovery in volumes, especially from industrial and commercial segments, lifted sentiment about power stocks," said Binod Modi, head strategy, Reliance Securities. "A likely improvement in the plant load factor (PLF) of power producers is expected to improve margins and cash flows in the ensuing quarters."

"Additionally, liquidity support to REC and PPC can potentially lead to a reduction in dues from discoms to power generation companies in the coming months," he added.

Demand for power has been weak in May and June so far. On a year-to-date basis till May, nation-wide daily and peak demand were higher by an average of 28% and 26% year-on-year. In May, it was up 12% and 10% from the same period last year.

"Easing of lockdowns from June onwards may reverse the decline in power demand while 9GW capacity auction expected over the next two months will help kickstart the renewable energy auction space again," said Rahul Modi, analyst, ICICI Securities. "We remain positive on stocks such as NTPC, NHPC, CESC, and PTC India as their earnings are based on capacity creation and not utilisation, and they continue to trade at low valuations and high dividend yields."

Tata Power is the top pick of analysts in the sector.

I have started hedging my metal exposure against the big order that I have received.

That's good, hedging is the best of the best to protect your margins.

Yes, every company has a defined client level and member level (PLI) correct?

For once, he is on the right side.

Then what should I do with this limit, my hedge will be incomplete.

There is a provision for additional hedge limit for open interest provided they give evidence for the enhanced requirement for hedging.

Did you know? Hedgers can get additional hedge limit over and above the client level open interest limit.
